

The Railway Club, 4 Belmont, Brighton, BN1 3TF Noon until 10pm

Roll up, roll up! Come one and all!

SEE the new All-day games Session you've been waiting for!

MARVEL at the Railway Club's facilities with cheap beer! (Pints from £2.75)

TREMBLE at the opening times of Midday til 10pm! Just early enough to not mess you up for work the next day!

Ok, ok, that's enough of all that guff. We've managed to book the rooms at the top of the (hushed gravelly tone...) winding stair (hence the "Tower" bit) of The Railway Club (it has a bar...guess where the "Tavern" bit came from...) in Brighton, meaning that a few of us will be there from doors open (that's high noon) until the doors close (10pm!)

So, here's a cracking chance to break out those hefty epic-o-games that you've been wanting to get your teeth into! We have already had one game of Civilization organised for example. Clocking in at a chunky 6 hours, a perfect Sunday afternoon!

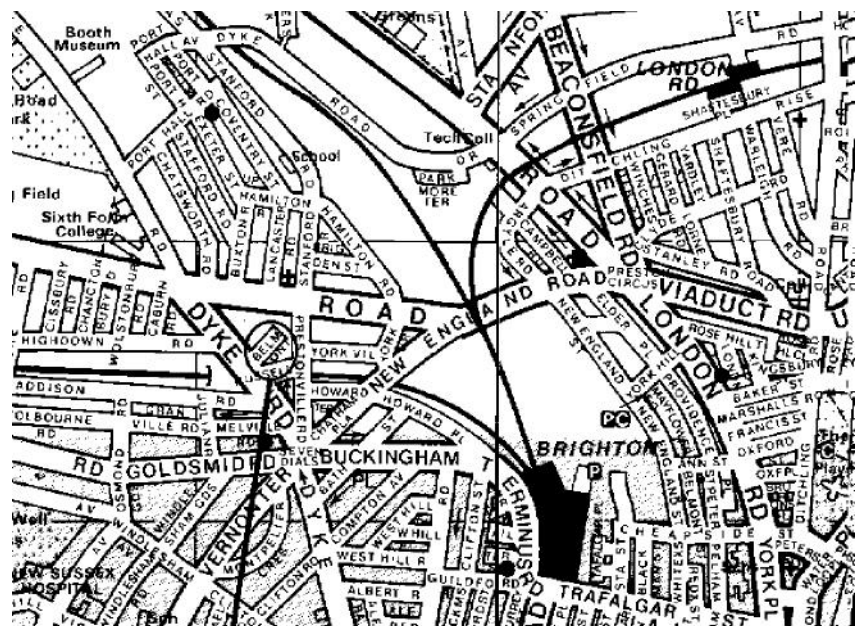

But hey, it's an informal affair! Turn up, anytime, bring whatever you want, play whatever you want!

The Railway Club won't be serving food but we've been given permission to bring our own! Or there's plenty of places around Seven Dials if you want something more substantial than jam sarnies and a satsuma.

Parking is largely free on a Sunday near the club, or, in these days of enviro-awareness, share a car! Then only one of you can't get merry!

If you're already a member of the Railway Club then it's also FREE all day, otherwise there's a meagre 50p guest charge and you'll need to be signed in. Just post a message here and we'll sort you out!

The day is yours to make of it what you will.?
